

Assessment cartographic analysis of geo-ecological problems of Imereti region

Mariam Gagoshashvili

E_mail: mariam.gagoshashvili691@ens.tsu.edu.ge

Department of Geography, Faculty of Exact and Natural Sciences, Iv. Javakhsishvili Tbilisi State University, I. Chavchavadze Ave #3, 0179, Tbilisi

The presented paper deals with the geo-ecological problems of Imereti region, special attention is paid to the polluting factors of the region.

Information on existing experience and theoretical analysis is discussed.

The paper presents geographical, ecological, geoecological and landscape analysis of the study region; Polluting factors in the region are discussed. The study identified specific sources of contamination and areas contaminated with various harmful substances.

The paper is based on already compiled cartographic materials, literary sources, conducted and current studies.